SHERIFF GOT SCARED.

Feared He Couldn't Control Situation
So Called For Troops.

SAYS HE IS FRIEND OF THE MINERS.

Didn't Want to Make the Mistake
Martin Made at Lattimer—Thinks
Troops Prevent Mobs—Situation
In Hazleton District.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 26.—The request of Sheriff Harvey that troops be sent to Luzerne county is still under consideration but it is almost certain none will be sent until there are further developments requiring their service. The entire Hazleton region is very quiet, no marchers or disturbances having occurred anywhere. Sheriff J. B. Harvey regarding his request for state help, said he telegraphed the governor for national guardsmen in any number that the chief executive, in his judgment, deemed best to preserve order as the situation is getting critical. He says he also had a long talk with Governor Stone over the telephone in which he explained the entire situation and why he had made the request for troops. The sheriff said he was wanted at so many places in the county to protect life and property that it was impossible to be everywhere. He frankly told the governor that the situation was getting beyond his control and suggested to him that two regiments would be sufficient to preserve order. He did not specify any command. He also informed the governor that under no circumstances would he shoot a man, that "he would not make the mistake Sheriff Martin made three years ago when a score of men were shot to death by deputies at Lattimer." The governor replied to him that he would take the whole subject under consideration and would let him know later what he would do in the matter. In speaking further on the question of using firearms, the sheriff said: "I am a better friend to the strikers than they think. I know they are fighting for what they think is right. I have given positive orders to my deputies that they must not do any shooting; that they must be calm and try to reason with the men when they see the strikers about to commit a violation of the law. I believe that more can be done with sugar than with vinegar. When I faced the men of Derringer, I kept my deputies split up in groups so as not to excite the strikers and went myself to the mob of 300 men unarmed and pleaded with them to let those workers go to the mines who so desired. They positively refused to do so and I arrested all those who were not within the law. If the men will not listen to reason, then force must be used, and that means shooting. The presence of troops will prevent the gathering of mobs and that is why I asked the governor to send soldiers."

No additional collieries were closed up in the Lehigh Valley. The Lentz, Lilly & Co., mine at Park Place in the Schuylkill region was reported as being closed. There is not a colliery in this region that has its full force of men at work.

Troops Not Needed.

Shenandoah, Pa., Sept. 26.—The expected order for troops to go to the Hazleton district was not received by General Gobin. After receiving the information that Sheriff Harvey of Luzerne county had requested the governor to send troops, General Gobin immediately made arrangements for transferring a portion of his command. A special train was prepared and the station agent remained in touch with the general the greater part of the night. General Gobin says he had a portion of the infantry and a battery in readiness to move at a moment's notice. "I remained up nearly all night," said the general, "but received no information, even those who were to furnish me with news of the situation failing to report." The condition in this region remains unchanged and everything is quiet and orderly.

Fourteen Collieries Worked.

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—According to the official report of General Superintendent Luther of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, 14 of the 39 collieries owned by that company are in operation. "This is one more than Tuesday but, as the officials admit, it does not indicate that the company is making any headway. The additional colliery resuming is the Wadesville, near Pottsville, which was closed for repairs to the machinery."

First Break at Tower City.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 26.—Seventy-five miners went on strike at Tower City colliery controlled by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company. There are 1,200 men employed at the colliery and this is the first break in their ranks. A branch of the Mine Workers' union is being organized at Tower City and the strike leaders predict that many of the men will go out Thursday.

Voted to Go Back.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 25.—The employees of G. B. Markle & Co. met at noon. There were about 150 men present. It was decided to ask for arbitration on those demands which the firm did not concede. A motion to continue work Thursday was carried.

BOER DEBACLE COMPLETE.

British Made Catspaw of Portugal to Achieve Final Victory.

New York Sept. 26.—A dispatch from Lorenzo Marques says the Boer debacle is complete. The Portuguese have disarmed all the Boer refugees taken. The final collapse of the Boer army may be summarized as follows.

When the Boers numbering 2,000 evacuated Koomatipoort they took up positions between the Lombobo ranch and the river. They had good positions and could have made a capital stand but owing to the disorganization and lack of discipline that were prevalent they were only half hearted.

Wishing to avoid a conflict and unnecessary bloodshed, the British consul general consulted the Portuguese governor general, Senhor Machado, as to the best course to be pursued to attain this end. He asked that emissaries should be sent up with an address to the Boers pointing out the uselessness of continuing their resistance and the absolute needlessness of going on further.

Besides if they continued to fight there was a fear of the natives rising. Owing to the fact that the Portuguese had been most kind to the Boers and as they had guaranteed their maintenance and repatriation and promised to send them back to their country free of charge, the scheme succeeded beyond the wildest hopes of its originator.

Instead of dozens coming down to Lorenzo Marques, 2,500 arrived in this wise. Diplomacy therefore triumphed by bringing the war to a speedy and bloodless close.

Invitation to Kruger.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Boer sympathizers from all parts of the United States, representing the various pro-Boer movements and organizations, met here and formed a national American Transvaal league. The delegates voted that an invitation on behalf of the American Boer sympathizers be extended to President Paul Kruger to visit this country, and in the event of being exiled from his country by action of the British government to make the United States his home.

Collector Jackson Dead.

San Francisco, Sept. 26.—Colonel John P. Jackson, collector of the port of San Francisco died Tuesday night. He suffered from a painful kidney affection and failed to rally after a surgical operation, which was performed. Colonel Jackson was born in Cleveland, O., March 7, 1833, studied law with Benjamin Harrison in the office of Bellamy Storer and was a law partner of George Hoadley. He was appointed sub-treasurer at San Francisco by President Harrison and collector by McKinley.

Wouldn't Stand a Cut.

Norwich, Conn., Sept. 26.—When informed that a voluntary increase of 10 per cent in wages, which was granted in April no longer could be paid, 200 employees of the Page Boiler company went on strike. Owing to lack of orders the company's works were closed five weeks ago and when operations were resumed this week announcement was made of the proposed reduction.

Earl Howe Dead.

London, Sept. 26.—Earl Howe (Richard William Penn Curzon-Howe) is dead. As his son, Viscount Curzon, who is a candidate for parliament in the South Buckinghamshire district, succeeds to the peerage, the Conservatives will now nominate for parliament William Henry Grenfell, the celebrated sportsman for South Buckinghamshire.

Return of Fire Fighters.

New York, Sept. 26.—Among the passengers on board the steamer Furnessia, which arrived from Glasgow, was George C. Hale, chief of the Kansas City fire department, and 13 of his men. This is part of the representation which exhibited at the Paris exposition and won all the contests in which they entered.

Mexico, Sept. 26.—Mexico's congress has declared the result of the presidential election. General Porfirio Diaz was unanimously elected and will be inaugurated next December. The president has entirely recovered from his recent indisposition.

STATE OF CAMPAIGN.

Movements of Politicians Who Plead
With the People.

ORATORS SENT IN ALL DIRECTIONS.

Continuation of Roosevelt's Western Tour—Kentucky Democratic Campaign
Launched—Lentz Replies
To Dick—Bryan Lanquet.

Chicago Sept. 26.—Perry S. Heath, chairman of the Republican national press committee and others connected with the committee, have returned from a week's tour of Utah, Wyoming, Colorado and Nebraska. Senator Quarles of Wisconsin arrived in Chicago having completed a tour of Illinois. He will leave for Wisconsin where he will make campaign speeches for McKinley and Roosevelt. Major F. A. Grant, late of the army of the Philippines, called on Vice Chairman Payne and consented to make speeches in Nebraska, Indiana and Ohio. Major Grant is a resident of Salt Lake City. Senator John A. Spooner will soon begin a speech-making tour in Nebraska, Illinois, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland and Wisconsin.

Lentz Replies to Dick.

Columbus, O., Sept. 26.—A mass meeting composed largely of German-American citizens, was addressed in German and English by Dr. L. W. Habercom of Washington, D. C., a widely known German journalist heretofore a Republican. He dissents from his party on the issue of imperialism, which was the chief topic of his remarks. Congressman Lentz spoke and devoted considerable time to the Coeur d'Alene mining troubles. He replied to Chairman Dick's response to his challenge to debate the Coeur d'Alene question and branded the report of the committee quoted by Dick, signed only by the Republican members of the committee as utterly false, and declared the government didn't dare to allow the testimony before the committee to be printed.

Roosevelt in Colorado.

Denver, Sept. 26.—Governor Roosevelt resumed his tour of the state of Colorado after a night's rest at the country residence of Senator Wolcott. Senator Lodge and wife of Massachusetts were also guests of the Colorado senator during the night. The Roosevelt party left Denver at 9:15 a. m. in a special train over the Denver and Rio Grande railroad. A number of Spanish-American war veterans accompanied the campaign orators. The first stop was at Castle Rock. Colorado Springs was reached at noon and after stopping there about an hour the governor proceeded over the Colorado Midland and Midland Terminal railroads to the Cripple Creek district, where a great demonstration in his honor was made in the evening.

Kentucky Democrats.

Louisville, Sept. 26.—The Democratic campaign in Louisville was opened in Music hall, the address being delivered by the Hon. B. F. Shively of Indiana. He devoted himself to a denunciation of trusts, to the question of imperialism and to a general criticism of the declarations of the Republican platform. Mr. Shively quoted liberally from the writings of Governor Roosevelt and commented on what he called expressions on imperialism in Mr. Roosevelt's books. He dealt almost entirely with national issues, but made a special appeal to Kentuckians to support the Democratic ticket, and urged that Kentucky be put in the Democratic column this year.

Tammany's Program.

New York, Sept. 26.—Tammany Hall settled the program of the Bryan meeting to be held at Madison Square Garden Oct. 16. Edward M. Shepard of Brooklyn will preside and addresses will be made by Messrs. Bryan and Stevenson and by Messrs. Stanchfield and Mackay, the Democratic candidates for governor and lieutenant governor. Mr. Bryan will speak from a stand at Twenty-third and Madison avenue, and immediately afterward at Cooper Union.

Deadlock Broken.

Omaha, Sept. 26.—The Republican convention in the Tenth Iowa district broke the deadlock over the nomination of a candidate to succeed Colliver, naming Judge Connor.

Deathbed Confession.

New York, Sept. 26.—A statement credited to the widow of David Allison, the cashier of the Traders' Insurance company, who died Saturday is published in which Mrs. Allison is quoted as saying that her husband whispered to her as he was dying, the name of the man who knew the condition of the Traders' Insurance company and was responsible for the framing of alleged false reports of the company's financial standing. Mrs. Allison also says she will go on the stand and disclose the name of the man her husband accused.

FIRST BLOODSHED.

For Which Strikers Are Responsible.
Attitude of Operators.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 26.—The first bloodshed which may be laid to the strike of the miners in the Lackawanna region is reported from Sibley, a mining settlement at the foot of the mountains in Old Forge township about six miles from Scranton. Three men were wounded in a row in which 20 revolver shots were fired. The participants were all Italians and were mostly men who, before the strike began, were working in Jermyn No. 1 mine near Rendham, as non-unionists, but who became members of the Mine Workers two weeks ago. Previously there was bad blood between these men and others of their own nationality who had been on strike at Jermyn's for six months and clashes occurred. The men got into a fight in the roadway near Barberton. Revolvers were drawn by several and when the battle was over three men were down in the road one so badly wounded that Dr. Timlin had little hope for his recovery. His name is Nick Gentileore. One man is under arrest. The others fled. The strike situation throughout the Lackawanna valley remains practically unchanged. It is rumored that the big companies are prepared Thursday to grant concessions provided at the time the men are actually working and in their employ.

It appears that the strike has brought to the attention of the operators in a more marked manner, the grievances of their employees and that in the various conferences held the opportunity has been afforded to discuss their grievances both from their own standpoint and that of the men. Public sentiment, especially as regards the question of the price charged for powder, has been a material factor in the proceedings and an understanding exists that when work is resumed the terms of settlement will be made known, but there is also an understanding that come what may, the compromise must not be affected through the United Mine Workers. While the many mine workers are anxious to settle the strike and return to work regardless of the means by which an amicable settlement is made, there is a quite strong sentiment to remain out until the union is recognized and until that organization is satisfied that work can be resumed advantageously to the union.

Woodford Married.

New York, Sept. 26.—General Stewart L. Woodford, former minister to Spain, was married to Miss Isabel Hanson in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church on lower Fifth avenue, this city. The Rev. Howard Duffield officiated. About 60 persons, only the nearest relatives and a few close friends, witnessed the ceremony and were also guests at the wedding breakfast. The bride was the private secretary of General Woodford at Madrid at the outbreak of the Spanish war. She is 30 years old and General Woodford is 65. This is his second marriage, his first wife having died about two years ago.

Prison Congress Officers.

Cleveland, Sept. 26.—The congress of the National Prison association elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, John F. Scott, Concord, N. H.; vice president, Frederick Howard Wynn, Washington, D. C.; general secretary, Rev. John R. Milligan, Allegheny, Pa.; financial secretary, Joseph P. Byers, Columbus, O.; treasurer, Charles M. Jessup, New York city; executive committee, E. S. Wright Allegheny, Pa., Z. R. Brockway, Elmira, N. Y., Eugene Smith, New York city, Albert Garvin, Weathersfield, Conn.

Edinburgh, Sept. 26.—News has been received at Drummore, Luce bay, of a hurricane at Offord, Iceland Sept. 20. The wind, it is said, blew 120 miles an hour. Nearly all the fishing smacks were driven ashore, houses were razed and several persons were killed. There was great destruction to property.

Grand Jury to Investigate.

New York, Sept. 26.—District Attorney Gardner and Assistants Osborne and Unger held a conference regarding the alleged frauds in the Traders' Fire Insurance company. Mr. Gardner has decided to submit the matter to the grand jury which will be sworn in Monday.

Cigar Makers Strike.

DEATH THE PENALTY.

Jury Finds Howard Guilty of Murder
Of William Goebel.

VERDICT SURPRISED THE PEOPLE.

Howard Received Announcement of
His Fate Like a Stoic—Jury Agreed
On Guilt But Divided as to Punishment—Alibi Failed.

Franklin, Ky., Sept. 26.—The jury in the Howard trial had no verdict when the court convened at 9 a. m. The jury retired at 9:10 and returned with its verdict at 9:43.

The court room was crowded with spectators and the vast crowd was white with suppressed excitement as Foreman Crutcher of the jury passed the written verdict up to the clerk. Deputy Clerk Elliott read the verdict, which found the defendant guilty and fixed his punishment at death.

Howard occupied a seat by his attorney. He did not display the least agitation and was apparently no more concerned than any other person in the court room.

The verdict was a surprise, as the general public was led to believe that the jury was divided on the question of the guilt or innocence of the defendant, but it turned out that the difficulty in reaching a verdict was over the degree of the punishment, some of the jurors favoring life imprisonment, while others stood out for the death penalty and finally won their associates over.

One of the jurors, after the jury had been discharged, stated that a number of ballots were taken, but the first ballot resulted in an unanimous vote in favor of a verdict of guilty. After that the ballots were as to the degree of punishment, 10 for the death penalty and two for life imprisonment. This was while the jurors were in the jury room Tuesday afternoon. The first ballot Wednesday resulted in a verdict, the jurors who had voted for life imprisonment gave in to the majority and voted for the death penalty.

After the verdict had been rendered, Howard was remanded to jail, where he was followed by his bosom friend, John G. White, who seemed almost paralyzed by the verdict. Howard's cheeks also blanched as he stood to accompany the jailer back to his cell.

The jury which tried the case was divided politically 9 Democrats, 1 Republican, 2 anti-Goebel Democrats.

The verdict of the jury, it is believed, was based largely upon the destruction of Howard's alibi, upon which he depended solely.

One of the jurors admitted that the failure of Howard to bring any of the occupants of the executive building Jan. 30 to testify that he was not there, was considered by the jury as an indication that he was there. The testimony of Gaines as to seeing Howard run out of the grounds and also of Stubblefield, who swore that Howard confessed the killing a few days after the murder, were the other principal points upon which the jury relied.

Howard's attorney will at once apply for a new trial, basing the motion on alleged expressions of several of the jurors made prior to the trial which were hostile to the defendant. It will be charged that one juror made the statement that all of the suspects under arrest ought to be hung and that he particularly specified Howard as one upon whom the death penalty ought to be pronounced. This was the general ground for the motion for a new trial in the case of Caleb Powers at Georgetown a month ago.

After Howard went back to jail Robert Noakes, who was one of the principal witnesses for the state in the Powers case, but who did not testify in the Howard case, was passing through the jail corridor. Howard saw him and poked his hand through the grating to shake hands. He said: "Well, Bob, good bye. If I don't see you again on earth, I guess I will meet you in h—ll."

Rice's Body Cremated.

New York, Sept. 26.—The body of William Marsh Rice, the millionaire whose death last Saturday is the occasion of unusual inquiry, official and otherwise, was taken to the crematory at Fresh Pond and incinerated. Prof. R. A. Withaus, chemist, will analyze the contents of the organs taken from the body. Dr. A. Burney Cannon, superintendent of the Bellevue dispensary, said that embalming fluid injected into the body after death always destroys every trace of any vegetable poison which may be in the body. Chief of Detectives McClusky said he had no reason to believe that Rice's death was the result of murder, nor did he believe there was any forgery connected with the case.

DOWN THE TRUST APOLOGISTS.
 The editor of the National Rural, a farm journal, may never have heard of Congressman Pugh, but the Rural in its advice to voters on the trust question gets after Pugh and every other trust apologist with a hot poker in the following terse language:

When you find a newspaper or spell-binder apologizing for trusts or asserting that there are good and bad trusts or in other ways trying to eliminate the trust issue from the campaign, it will be part of wisdom to vote the opposite ticket. No party dare come out boldly for trusts, and none this year dare come out boldly for the gold standard, but it is as well to fight shy of any party, if there be such, that tries to work an "international bimetallic" racket in behalf of trusts. There are no good trusts and can be none under the present system, because every one of them is actuated by greed, and greed in power is sure to rob and oppress. Those who assert that there are good trusts are apologists only seeking to weaken the force of the anti-trust argument in behalf of party or candidates.

Therefore, in voting on the trust problem the wise farmer victim of trusts will cast his ballot for the candidate, if there be such, who will be most likely to curb or destroy their power. "By their fruits ye shall know them," should be applied to such candidates. Those who have been tried and failed to produce fruit should not be trusted. Perhaps their successors in office may do better, but when it is patent to all there has been no efforts, but that trusts, like noxious weeds in a corn field, have been allowed to grow without hindrance, then a change in the husbandman is desirable. The power of trusts can be curbed and it must be done; otherwise industrial and commercial liberty is forever gone.

If Judge Pugh, in all his years of Congress, has ever raised his voice against a single combine or voted to curb a single trust, we have heard nothing of it. On the contrary he has ever been a suppliant tool of the Hanna-McKinley crowd who remained silent and allowed trusts to spring up and flourish "like noxious weeds in a corn field." Elect Kehoe and then we will have a Representative who can be relied on to fight the combines at every point.

At the Howard trial in Frankfort Saturday, a man identified by the name Clay Robinson, alias "Saint" Robinson, who "just happened" to be in Frankfort at the time of the Goebel tragedy, took the stand as the star witness for the defense to prove a mountain alibi for the immaculate Jim Howard. On direct examination he testified that he was at the Board of Trade Hotel in company with Howard when Goebel was shot. A very good alibi, to be sure; and had a Republican Judge of the Eleventh district been sitting in the case we have no sort of doubt but that Howard would have then and there been discharged as a wholly innocent and much prosecuted man. But "Saint" Robinson was cross-examined by Col. Campbell, and to the utter dismay of Howard and his attorneys, Robinson admitted, (whether or not his admission was owing to that $100,000 fund we are not told,) but at all events this star witness admitted that he had told a number of people that he was in the State House Square (not the Board of Trade Hotel), when Goebel was shot and that he saw him fall. Is it possible that these saintly witnesses for the defense could make such contradictory statements about so important a matter? Surely this "honest" and "unpurchaseable" witness will explain this discrepancy in his testimony, to an anxious public. Hear, oh hear his explanation! In answer to the question if he had not told several people that he was in the State House Square when Goebel was shot and saw him fall, he answered that he had so told many people but that he was "joking." "Are you in the habit of joking on such ghastly subjects," inquired Col. Campbell? "Yes sir," answered Robinson, "We mountain people joked a good deal about the killing of Goebel." So the shooting down in cold blood of a State officer in the discharge of his duties is a subject for jokes in the mountains, is it? Just imagine that mountain crowd holding their sides in laughter and slapping each other on the back and throwing their hats in the air with very joy when one of them told that Goebel "got like a stuck hog" when he was shot and these are the fellows who are going to re-establish civil liberty. The same fellows who came to Frankfort to see that "Taylor got justice." And these are the fellows who constitute the backbone of the Republican party in this state, and the bright particular stars of Kentucky citizenship.

THE HOWARD TRIAL.

Some Points Presented by Judge Williams in the Closing Argument for the Prosecution.

Owing to the illness of Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin, Judge Williams represented the State in the prosecution of Jim Howard, whose conviction on the charge of assassinating Gov. Goebel was mentioned Wednesday. Mr. Williams made the closing argument in the case. "Let us analyze for a brief time the statements of the accused himself," said Williams at one point. "Did he in a single instance deny the man, the time, and the place of any of the conversations that the Commonwealth's witnesses imputed to him? No, you know that he did not. He only denied the incriminating parts of these conversations. Didn't he admit talking to John L. Jones? Didn't he admit talking to Jim Stubblefield? Didn't he admit talking to Culton and Wharton Golden? Yes, he did. Now, did all of these men lie, or did Jim Howard?"

Speaking of that part of the story of the defense about the application for pardon the speaker called the attention of the jury to the fact that though the murder of old man Baker was committed two years before Bradley went out of office Howard, in his own testimony, said that he never came to see Bradley to ask for a pardon.

"No, he tells you that he waited to make the application to his friend Taylor. Why, then, didn't he make that application to Taylor on the first day of January when he came here as a witness with Witness Stubblefield in the Federal Court? He came here with all of his expenses paid then, but, no, he didn't know then, nor until the 25th day of January, that he wanted a pardon, and he didn't know it then until John G. White, of Winchester, wrote his brother Bev. to send Jim to Frankfort. They tell you that letters were written by John White to Bev. White and to Ed. Parker at London concerning that application for pardon, but where are those letters now? Those two men told you that they were destroyed. Why were they destroyed? They would be the best evidence of his mission and yet the defense fails to bring them to light. No, gentlemen, he did not come to Frankfort for the sole purpose of getting a pardon for the murder of that old man. When he arrived at Mr. Taylor's office he bore a letter of introduction to that man, and that letter, I have no doubt, told him that the bearer was the expert rifleman that his friends had promised to furnish."

Continuing the speaker called attention to the fact that on Howard's way to Frankfort from his home all of the prominent Republicans who were responsible for his coming avoided him, that Ed. Parker swore that he did not approach him at London; that at Winchester he remained closely with John G. White, and that when he got off the train at Frankfort Bev. White and Witness Wagers did not get off with him, but went on to Louisville, leaving the poor mountain fool at Frankfort, not caring whether he came out of it alive if he only took the life of the Democratic leader.

Taking up the testimony given by Witnesses Robinson and Poore, the speaker compared the Republicans who testified on the stand that they joked about the death of Goebel to the ghouls of Galveston who cut off the fingers and ears of the dead for the jewels that bedecked them.

At another point the speaker charged that when Attorney Owens said that Attorney Campbell told a falsehood in stating that the failure of an alibi was considered by law-writers to be a confession of guilt, he (Owens) knew that he was making a misstatement to the jury. Taking up a standard work on the subject, the speaker walked over to Owens, and shaking it in front of him, said:

"Give me permission to open this book, sir, and read a section of it to the jury, and I will prove to the satisfaction of all that Attorney Campbell, and not you, told this jury the law on the subject, and that you misrepresented it."

"You can do as you please. I am not directing your argument," responded Owens.

"Yes," answered Williams, "I am, but I will not make an error in this record, and can not read it without your permission. I only want this jury to properly weigh your other statements on this scale."

Attorney Williams next discussed the warning sent by J. C. N. Day, the Winchester merchant and partner of John G. White, the man who brought Howard to Frankfort. "Mr. Day sent that warning," said the speaker, "by a reputable man, and with the injunction that his name be not mentioned, as he, himself, knew that his life would be in danger for even giving a warning. Gentlemen, that man Day told you the truth. Being closely connected with the Whites, he was in a position to know what was to happen."

ABLE AND ELOQUENT.

Hon. Charles K. Wheeler Delivers a Telling Speech to a Large and Enthusiastic Audience.

Hon. Charles K. Wheeler, of Paducah, ably and eloquently addressed a crowded house at the court house last night for over two hours. His arraignment of the McKinley administration for its tendency toward imperialism and its friendship and support of trusts was severe, but he quoted from the Congressional Record and McKinley's own words to prove his assertions.

He referred to the Neeley and Rathbone steals in Cuba, saying of Neeley that before he had learned the streets of Havana he had stolen $140,000, and criticized the administration for failure to prosecute these criminals.

Mr. Wheeler called upon the colored voter to witness that the Republican party which boasted of liberating the negro under Lincoln, so far degenerated that McKinley, elected President as a Republican, had recognized slavery as right under a treaty with the Chief of the Sulu Islands. The speaker said he was opposed to slavery, and deprecated the fact that in this Nineteenth century any man could be found who would agree that slavery was a proper institution. He stated that the monarch of these islands was a polygamist, having 300 wives, and that Americans are taxed to help keep up the harem.

The speaker then referred to the pomp and ceremony with which McKinley's appointees were inducted into office in Porto Rico, and said there was no warrant for the title, "Governor General," which had been conferred upon the chief officer of the island, it being a Spanish title conferred upon such as Weyler, the butcher. He next gave many other illustrations showing the trend of the McKinley administration towards a monarchy, and asked whether or not the issue of imperialism was myth or fact, when we contrast with all this that upon one occasion a President of the U. S. rode to the White House on a pony, and walked up and took the oath of office.

He stated that we did not want the Philippine Islands as a business proposition, because during the past twelve months it had cost us $148,000,000, while our commerce with those islands was only $2,000,000, and that he was opposed to taking $148,000,000 out of the pockets of all the people of the U. S. in order to benefit a few dealers in commerce. He charged that representatives of the beet sugar trust and of the tobacco trust had induced McKinley to change front on the Porto Rican tariff measure.

He proved unmistakably that the Republicans were the friends of the trusts and in reply to Hanna's statement that there were no trusts he asked the farmers why barbed wire had advanced from $1.50 to $3.10 per hundred? and he asked the ladies why they could get only twelve to fifteen pounds of sugar now for a dollar while a year or so ago they could get twenty pounds.

He urged his audience to send Jim Kehoe to Congress and to retire Sam. Pugh to private life where he so justly and meritoriously belonged.

His audience was enthusiastic throughout.

ELECTRIC RAILWAYS.

Two of Them Projected From Washington C. H. to Maysville.

Ripley has incorporated a $10,000 company to promote an electric railway from that place north.

The Lebanon (O.) Star says: "Ripley citizens are forming a company to build an electric line north from that city. They should connect with and unite their efforts with the proposed Lebanon and Maysville line."

"James M. Wilson, of Chicago, has taken out incorporation papers for a line from Washington C. H. to Columbus. He claims to have all the necessary means to build the road. It is his intention also to push the road from Washington on to Hillsboro and the Ohio river."

"Incorporation papers have also been taken out by Washington C. H. capitalists for another line over nearly the same route, from Columbus to the Ohio river."

HOW HISTORY IS MADE.

The Public Ledger's Article in Regard to Mrs. Dolly Wood Forman.

I was very much amused at an article in yesterday's Ledger headed, "The Long Ago." Having within the last week investigated the title to the property mentioned from time of Simon Kenton down, I have this to say:

1. Mrs. Dolly Wood Forman was not the first white child born in Kentucky.
2. Collins' history of Kentucky does not say so.
3. Geo. Wood, her father, did not build the famous public spring.
4. He never gave it to the town of Washington at his death.
5. He never at any time owned the property on which the spring is located.

With these and a few other trivial exceptions the Ledger is correct. Yours truly,

DRINK PURE WATER AND ENJOY GOOD HEALTH

The long-continued drouth throughout the county has made the question of stock water a serious problem.

Many farmers are compelled to haul water for miles, and some of those in the interior, who are not fortunate enough to possess good springs or wells, come all the way to the Ohio to get enough of the precious fluid to keep their stock alive.

What must be the condition of the wells and cisterns in a section where there has practically been no rain all summer?

Can what water remains be pure, untainted or fit for household purposes?

These are questions that require no answers.

DRINK PURE WATER AND ENJOY GOOD HEALTH

To have pure water, equip your well or cistern with a Nonpareil Bucket Pump and Water Purifier.

We sell them.

It is the best pump on earth for wells or cisterns.

It has no superior for durability or price for wells up to sixty feet.

A ten-year-old boy can draw water with ease from a sixty-foot well.

It will not freeze, as the cups discharge themselves, having stood the test of 38 degrees below zero.

It saves its cost in doctor bills alone in six months.

DRINK PURE WATER AND ENJOY GOOD HEALTH

For every gallon of water drawn, a gallon of air is circulated through the water, thus ventilating, vitalizing and purifying the water, destroying all germs of disease and removing all impurities from the foulest well or cistern in a few days' ordinary use.

We also offer and recommend the I. X. L. Patent Galvanized Steel Chain Pump Curb and Galvanized Steel Tubing.

A NEW SWINDLE.

Man and Woman Defrauding Colored People—Caught a Maysville Woman for Fifteen Dollars.

Policeman Wallace this week unearthed a glaring swindling scheme that is being worked on superstitious and too confiding colored people.

The fraud is engineered by a white woman, who is above the medium in size, and of rather handsome appearance. She travels about on a bicycle, and while in Maysville had a man as companion who wore a blue suit and had dark hair and mustache.

The scheme is such a glaring fraud that their work is of necessity confined to the ignorant and superstitious.

The woman claims to be a trance medium and after selecting her victim makes her dupe believe that a pot of gold or other money is buried near her home, and finally induces the party to enter into a contract in which the so-called medium agrees to unearth the gold, the medium to receive one third of the amount in payment for her work.

But to find the gold the medium makes her victim believe she must use a lot of needles that possess the power of locating the money, and she requires a payment of $15 in advance, this $15 to be returned, however, in ten days if the pot is not found. Here's where the fraud comes in, for as soon as the so-called medium gets the $15 she disappears and seeks fresh victims in other fields.

This swindle was successfully worked the last few weeks on Malinda Hawkins, who lives on Hord's Hill. Here is a copy of the contract the woman induced Malinda to sign:

CONTRACT OF WORK.

MAYSVILLE, KY., Sept. 5, 1900.

This is to certify this day that there is to be got for Mrs. Malinda Hawkins one lot of money on her place for which $\frac{1}{2}$ is to be given to medium and balance to go to Mrs. Malinda Hawkins; \$15 paid in on work for using with needles, and if this (pot) of money is not successfully got inside of ten days, same amount to be returned back to said above named parties. Signed this day,

Witness: MALINDA HAWKINS,

Witness: MISS L. MARSHALL,

Medium of Work and Trance.

The Marshall woman claimed her home was at Dover; that she had a farm down there on which she had 4,000 rabbits (Belgian hares probably), so well tamed that they came at her call, and she took great delight in feeding.

It is hardly necessary to add that she didn't find the pot of gold, and that she hasn't returned the $15.

Bellefonte, Pa., Sept. 26—John Keenan, a woodsman, shot and killed Anne Hobson, the daughter of John Hobson, of Gillinton, Pa. The two had gone for a walk in the woods. Keenan, who claims the shooting was accidental, is under arrest.

RICHARD DAWSON.

Death Claims One of Maysville's Oldest and Best Known Citizens.

The Final Summons Came at 6:10 Wednesday Evening—Funeral Friday Afternoon.

Colonel Richard Dawson, whose critical condition has been frequently mentioned the past few weeks; died last evening at 6:10 o'clock at his room at the Central Hotel. His health had been gradually failing a year or so, as a result of his advanced years and a disease of the kidneys. For the last six weeks he had been confined to his room.

Col. Dawson was born in Baltimore, but had been a resident of Maysville since he was two years old. His exact age is not known, but his closest friends place it at eighty-two or eighty-three. So far as known he has no surviving relatives. A nephew, John Dawson, died a few years ago at his home in Ireland.

Col. Dawson was one of the oldest members of DeKalb Lodge No. 12, I. O. O. F. He was initiated at the second meeting of the lodge March 22, 1842, and was the first Treasurer of the lodge. Five others were initiated into the lodge at the same meeting, and Col. Dawson's death leaves but two of these surviving. They are Captain N. Cooper, of this city, and Mr. T. B. Brickel, whose present home is either in Indiana or Missouri.

For some time Mr. Dawson realized that the end was not far off, and two weeks ago he arranged all the details for his funeral and burial. In accordance with his wishes, the funeral service will be held at the Central Presbyterian Church, of which he recently became a member. The service will take place Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Molloy officiating. Burial in the Maysville Cemetery. The services will be under the auspices of DeKalb Lodge. The members will meet at the hall at 1 o'clock and at 1:30 will escort the remains from the hotel to the church, and from there, after the religious services, to the cemetery.

The memory of Colonel Dawson will be carried far into the new century by the younger generation that knew him in this. Many of his familiar associates were men younger than himself, and nothing gave the old gentleman greater delight than to open his budget of reminiscences to the young friends who gathered around him in his declining years. He was a typical representative of the Old Town, which he loved to describe. He had all the courage, all the energy, all the sagacity and enterprise that characterized the men of the pioneer period; and when the local historians of a later day shall recall the names of the men who loved the old town, and in an almost literal sense, lived for it, there will be no name upon the list more conspicuous than that of Richard Dawson, whose strong spirit, after years of ceaseless struggle, passes peacefully into eternal rest.

Which, strong against the tempests of the years, Sinks in the sunshine of a soft decay."

This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. John W. Vogel and Arthur Deming's big minstrels have reached the highest summit of perfection, towering above all similar attractions, a monument to the march of progressive minstrel enterprise. It is conducted on a broad and liberal basis, the company containing the leading lights of minstrelsy, the very cream of laugh producers, and the pick of high class novelty entertainers, presenting a program entirely foreign to all other minstrel organizations, and a welcome relief from the old and threadbare methods so long in use by similar enterprises. The public's want has been carefully considered by Manager Vogel, who has acquired recognition for the advancement and further development of minstrelsy, receiving the praise and steadfast financial support of all lovers of amusement. This famous organization will be seen at the Washington Opera House, Wednesday, Oct. 3rd.

A grand and imposing free spectacular street parade will be given on that day at the noon hour.

PITHY POLITICAL POINTS.

(By Robt. Taylor.)

An assassin is an assassin all the time.

When Taylor ran away to Indiana he made the trip as the representative of the Republican party.

About the only laurel worn by Taylor to Indiana was that which adorned the brow of his prototype, Cain.

The Republican party seems to be retreating instead of advancing, as witness Taylor's retreat to Indiana.

The spirit of assassination must be rebuked at the polls in November, and should Kentucky fall in this duty she will be spurned by honest and brave men for all time.

The same men and party that counseled and brought about the assassination of the brilliant Goebel now have the gall to ask an indorsement of the manhood of Kentucky.

Some claim that Beckham is too young for Governor. It's to be hoped that objections will not be urged against him with such vehemence that they shall finally attain momentum sufficient to bring about his—shall we say assassination?

It may be that the reason Grover Cleveland, who was honored by Democrats with two terms of the Presidency, is so long in deciding which party to support now, is that he considers it merely a "wild goose chase," or a duck hunt at most.

If Republicans don't like the term "assassination," as used in connection with themselves and the dastardly taking off of Governor Goebel, they are entitled to the additional bitter reflection that they alone are responsible before all men for having it applied to them.

When Kentuckians indorse and applaud assassination with all its infernal and hellish horrors, then may they be expected to indorse the party that is responsible before men and the Creator for the bloody grave that imprisons the cherished form of William Goebel at Kentucky's capital.

At Cincinnati Monday Federal Judge Thompson holds that the jurisdiction of the Courts of Bankruptcy is exclusive, and the bankruptcy law suspends the operation of the state insolvency law. He holds that when acts of bankruptcy have been committed by an insolvent debtor the administration of his estate, for the benefit of his creditors, is within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Court of Bankruptcy.
